2. In this Statute, words expressed in the singular term shall be construed to include the plural and vice versa.

Article 2 – Establishment of the African Institute for Remittances

1. The AIR is hereby established as a Specialized Technical Office of the Commission.
2. The objectives, structure, mandate and functions of the AIR shall be defined as herein in the Statute.

Article 3 – Legal status of AIR

The AIR shall possess full juridical personality and, in particular, full capacity:

- a) To enter into agreements with members, non-members and other international organizations.
- b) To contract;
- c) To acquire and dispose of immovable and movable property; and
- d) To institute and to respond to legal proceedings.

Article 4 – Objectives

The objectives of the AIR shall be to:

- a) Improve the statistical measurement, compiling and reporting capabilities of Member States on remittances data;
- b) Promote appropriate changes to the legal and regulatory frameworks for remittances, payment and settlement systems as well as use of innovative technology so as to promote greater competition and efficiency, resulting in reductions of transfer costs;
- c) Leverage the potential impact of remittances on social and economic development of Member States, as well as promoting financial inclusion.

Article 5 – Functions and activities of the AIR

1. In order to attain the above objectives, the AIR shall function in accordance with the provisions of this Statute;
2. The functions and activities of the AIR shall be to:
 - a) Assist Member States, remittance senders and recipients and other stakeholders to develop and implement concrete strategies and operational instruments to leverage remittances as development tools for poverty eradication;
 - b) Provide technical assistance to government institutions (Central Banks, Ministries, financial and non-financial institutions) on establishing and operating the necessary regulatory frameworks on remittances;
 - c) Promote adoption and implementation of the General Principles for International Remittance Services (GPs) by Member States, including transparency and consumer protection, an accessible payment systems infrastructure, an enabling legal and regulatory environment, a balanced market structure and competition as well as sound governance and risk management;
 - d) Conduct empirical research on remittance markets, to address the main market inefficiencies and explore best practices in the area of remittances and disseminate findings;
 - e) Collect and disseminate data on remittances and manage the remittances price database including Send Money Africa (SMA);
 - f) Engage with private sectors players to address market failure, particularly to act as a catalyst in fostering investment in remittances, innovating in service delivery and promoting technology usage by Remittance Service Providers (RSPs) including non-bank financial institutions;
 - g) Improve capacities of non-bank financial institutions to strengthen their ability to offer remittance services in rural areas;
 - h) Foster effective ways of networking, coordination and cooperation among Member States and stakeholders to address remittances issues in a more strategic and programmatic manner;
 - i) Enable development of content and technology platforms for country-based payment and settlement systems for remittances;
 - j) Promote policies that improve the development impact of remittances;
 - k) Establish an Information center on remittances in Africa;
 - l) Establish partnerships with Remittances Sending Countries to facilitate the transfer and management of remittances, to address existing challenges and to harmonise bilateral or multilateral policies and agreements.
