The Peace and Security Council,

2. Calls on the Government of Sudan to remain committed to the timelines articulated in the Constitutional Declaration and implement the priority areas of the peace process, especially the appointment of Civilian Governors to the States, as well as the establishment of the Sudanese Legislative Council, with a view to meet the expectations of the people of the Sudan of attaining a civilian leadership in the country. Furthermore, requests the government of The Sudan to urgently finalise the appointments in the country's Judiciary and further commence the necessary preparations for the general elections to be held at the end of the transition period;
3. Welcomes the diplomatic rapprochement between the Governments of the United States of America (USA) and Sudan, including recent announcements of exchange of Ambassadors by the two countries for the first time in 23 years; in this regard, also welcomes the commitment by the USA to continue providing financial assistance towards the recovery and development of Sudan and further welcomes the decision by the United States Department of State to remove Sudan from its list of governments that are engaging in or tolerating systematic and ongoing religious freedom violations;

5. Notes with concern that the continued listing by the US of Sudan as a State Sponsor of Terrorism (SST), as noted by the High-Level Event on Sudan convened on the margins of the United Nations General Assembly in New York General, held on 27th September 2019, and the 884th meeting of the PSC held on 10 October 2019, continues to negatively affect the political, economic and security transition of Sudan, encourages the government of Sudan, together with the United States, to urgently address those questions that led to the country being designated as a state sponsor of terrorism, welcomes the assurances presented by the United States government that intensive efforts are continue to be undertaken by both sides towards addressing this matter;

6. Welcomes the commitment expressed by the Government of Sudan to compensate the families of the victims of terrorist attacks for the bombing of the United States Embassies in Kenya and Tanzania in 1998 and the carrier USS Cole in 2000, as part of the efforts towards the delisting of Sudan as a state sponsor of terrorism;

7. Also welcomes the confirmation by the USA government that the Sudan government is no longer under economic or trade sanctions and, therefore, no government or company doing business with or in Sudan would be liable under US laws and therefore wishes to encourage governments and companies, wishing to do so, to invest in Sudan in order to help the Sudan resuscitate its economy, furthermore calls on International Banks and financial institutions to commence their operations in the Sudan and facilitate international financial transfers, in order for the Sudanese diaspora to contribute towards the recovery and reconstruction of their country;

8. Notes with concern that the momentous progress made in Sudan risks being jeopardized if daily life conditions of the Sudanese are not improved; In this regard, urgently calls on Sudan and the international financial institutions to intensify their engagements in order to facilitate the country's access to concessional loans that will be critical to its economic recovery, at this juncture ; encourages the government Sudan and the international financial institutions to engage in transparent and constructive discussions on how this matter should be addressed, without undermining the current fragile economic situation in Sudan;

10. Reaffirms the determination of the AU, in close coordination with the international community, to assist the Government of Sudan in all efforts aimed at ending the conflicts in Sudan and restoring peace, security, stability and development; looks forward to the convening of the Donor Conference in Kuwait, in April 2020, and appeals to the AU Member States to participate in that important event;

11. Takes note of the persistent challenges posed by the presence of individuals who may be keen to undermine current efforts to attain peace, security and stability in Sudan, and undertakes to impose punitive measures on any one with such intentions and calls on the international community to do the same;

12. Reiterates its decision of the 884th meeting of the PSC held on 10 October 2019, to visit the Republic of Sudan, in 2020, with a view to express AU's solidarity to the Government and the people of Sudan and better understand the developments in the country since the signing of the Constitutional Declaration; in this regard, agrees to undertake this visit during the month of February 2020;

13. Decides to remain seized of the matter.
