The Pan-African Parliament,

Considering Article 17 of the Constitutive Act of the African Union, which establishes the Pan-African Parliament (PAP) to ensure the full participation of the people of Africa in the development and economic integration of the continent;

Considering also Article 3 of the Protocol to the Treaty Establishing the African Economic Community Relating to the Pan-African Parliament (PAP Protocol), and Rule 4 (a) of the Rules of Procedure of the Pan-African Parliament (PAP Rules), which empower the PAP to facilitate the implementation of policies, objectives and programmes of the African Union and to oversee their effective implementation;

Considering further Article 11(3), (7) of the PAP Protocol and Rule 4 (d), (e) of the PAP Rules, which Contribute to the harmonization and coordination of the legislative texts of The State in accordance with Article 11 (3) of the Protocol;

Recalling Article 66 of the African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights which provides that special protocols or agreements, if necessary, may supplement the provisions of the African Charter;

Recalling also Article 18 (4) of the African Charter on Human and Peoples which provides for the right of persons with disabilities to special measures of protection in keeping with their physical or moral needs and the Protocol to the African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in Africa;

Recalling further the principles on the inherent dignity and worth and the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family as the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world has enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations as well as the Constitutive Act of the African Union;

Mindful of the fact that the various international instruments including the United Nations Charter, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and the International Covenants on Human Rights, have proclaimed and agreed that everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth therein, without distinction of any kind,

Reaffirming the characteristics of human rights and fundamental freedoms such as their universality, indivisibility, interdependence and interrelatedness as well as the need for persons with disabilities to be guaranteed of their full enjoyment without discrimination,

Recalling the protection laid down in the core international human rights instruments such as in the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination, the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women, the Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, the Convention on the Rights of the Child, and the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of Their Families;

Recalling also the Marrakesh Treaty to Facilitate Access to Published Works for Persons Who Are Blind, Visually Impaired, or Otherwise Print Disabled (MVT) adopted by member states of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), in on June 27, 2013, which allows for copyright exceptions to facilitate the creation of accessible versions of books and other copyrighted works for visually impaired persons. This treaty sets a norm for countries ratifying the treaty to have a domestic copyright exception covering these activities, and allowing for the import and export of such materials;
Recognizing that disability is an evolving concept and that disability results from the interaction between persons with impairments and attitudinal and environmental barriers that hinders their full and effective participation in society on an equal basis with others;

Recognizing also the importance of the principles and policy guidelines contained in the international and continental Programmes such as the World Programme of Action concerning Disabled Persons, the 2002 AU Continental Plan of Action for the African Decade of Persons with Disabilities (CPOA), and the Second African Decade of Persons with Disabilities; as well as other existing legal and policy frameworks at the national and regional levels, including the SADC treaty, Protocol on Gender and Development, the SADC Charter of Fundamental and Social Rights, with the aim to further equalize opportunities for persons with disabilities;

Recalling further the AU’s Agenda 2063 vision of ‘An integrated, prosperous and peaceful Africa, driven by its own citizens and representing a dynamic force in global arena.’, in particular Aspiration 6 of an Africa whose development is people-driven, relying on the potential of African people, especially its women and youth, and caring for children;

Concerned that despite these various legal and policy instruments and undertakings, persons with disabilities continue to be discriminated, face barriers in their participation as equal members of society and violations of their human rights in all parts of the world,

Recognizing that risk of vulnerability of women and girls with disabilities raise greater concern, both within and outside the home, including violence, injury or abuse, neglect or negligent treatment, maltreatment or exploitation,

Emphasizing the need to mainstreaming disability issues as an integral part of relevant strategies and developmental programmes of sustainable development;

Convinced that the family is the natural and fundamental unit of society and is entitled to protection by society and the State, and that persons with disabilities and their family members should receive the necessary protection and assistance to enable families to contribute towards the full and equal enjoyment of the rights of persons with disabilities,

Convinced that a comprehensive and integral continental framework to promote and protect the rights and dignity of persons with disabilities will make a significant contribution to redressing the profound social disadvantage of persons with disabilities and promote their participation in the civil, political, economic, social and cultural spheres with equal opportunities, at both national and international levels;

Hereby adopts the following African Model Law on Disability:
